

Student Eligibility for Study/Work Term Out-of-Province/Canada

BILLING INSERT - November 2017

Did you know?

- Out-of-Province/Canada Coverage Extensions available for students studying outside of their home province for no additional charge
- Professional Sport Exclusion applicable to Sports Scholarships
- Specialized Sports Policies are available

RWAM will extend the Out-of-Canada (OOC) emergency medical benefit to eligible dependents while studying outside of Canada at a recognized post-secondary college or university, providing the dependent has not reached the applicable student maximum termination age and provincial coverage is in place. This is a value-added benefit; there is no additional charge for this extension.

The 'Student Eligibility and Extension Request for Study/Work Term \(RA042/RA100\)' form available on the RWAM website, requires completion and submission to RWAM for processing.

Please note that if the student has received a sports scholarship for their post-secondary education, RWAM's Out-of-Canada emergency medical coverage will not apply during their practices or games, due to the following policy exclusion with our OOC insurer, Allianz Global Assistance:

- Professional Sport means any sporting activity, especially when competitive, for which a participant is compensated either by direct payment of money, or an indirect payment such as the provision of a scholarship where education costs are waived or supplemented for the duration of their scholarship period and participation in the specified sport for the college or university.

If the college or university that the student is attending on a sports scholarship does not provide insurance while participating in the sport, RWAM recommends you obtain specific sports coverage, since most carriers will not be able to issue a policy if a sports-related accident or injury has already occurred.

RWAM has recently partnered with SecuriGlobe, one of Canada's top travel insurance providers. SecuriGlobe offers a variety of travel insurance products, including Sports Policies that provide coverage while participating in a wide range of sports. You can contact them directly at 1-866-370-2065.
